The College of Medicine's Alumni Unit at Imam Abdulrahman Bin Faisal University held its first program in the year 2021-2022, which was entitled 'Presenting a case to its fullest' presented by doctor Assim AlAbdulqadeer. The program was held on the Zoom platform on Saturday 11/9/2021. The program aimed to shed light on the importance of presenting the medical case in the correct way, as it is an important basis for every health practitioner and medical students at all levels. In addition, the most important points that should be focused on were highlighted while presenting the case to the doctor supervising the patient. The number of attendees was 69 students. In conclusion, a questionnaire was submitted to the students to assess the extent of their satisfaction with the program
