

جامعة الإمام عبد الرحمن بن فيصل
IMAM ABDULRAHMAN BIN FAISAL UNIVERSITY

Institute of Consulting Studies

Imam Abdulrahman Bin Faisal University

A Leading body in the provision of excellent services and consulting studies

2019

Prof. Abdulkarim bin Khalaf Al Howaish
Dean of the Institute of Consulting Studies

The University of Imam Abdulrahman bin Faisal is one of the pillars of higher education in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia. The University, with its specific, human and material resources, has a key role in scientific research, academic supervision and community service. The University has a wide base of qualified scientific and technical staff from the best local universities and a strong environment in all its faculties, scientific departments, research centers, laboratories and modern information system.

The Institute of Consulting Studies at Imam Abdulrahman bin Faisal University is the link between the university, the public and private sectors and civil society institutions as a national consultancy, providing research, contractual studies, professional, academic and administrative consultations with high quality in line with the requirements of national development and Saudi labor market. And the requirements of the local community and work to achieve the vision of the Kingdom 2030 in building an ambitious homeland and a prosperous economy and a vibrant knowledge society developed through the vast material and human resource owned by the University.

The Institute of Consulting Studies at Imam Abdulrahman University Bin Faisal services in the fields of research and contractual studies Providing consultancy, scientific supervision and management of expert houses Based on paid contracts, and the Institute has four functions Main:

1. Consulting
2. Research and contractual studies
3. Educational supervision
4. Expert Houses

Overview

- The Institute of Consulting Studies (ICS) was established in 1440H (2019).
- ICS Works as a national consulting expertise body.
- It Provides contractual services to both the public and private sectors as well as the civil society organization.
- ICS runs its activities with a flexibility that meets the requirements of the government and private sectors.
- Administratively linked to the Chancellor.
- Supervised by a board headed by the Dean of the Institute of Studies Advisory Committee.

Importance of Establishing ICS

There are so many reasons that necessitate the establishment of ICS. These reasons could be summarized as follows:

- Desire to develop the University's financial, human and knowledge resources to realize Saudi Arabia's Vision-2030 which is focusing on building an ambitious nation, a thriving economy and a vibrant knowledge-based society.
- Manage IAU resources (excellent researchers, laboratories and scientific and technical equipment) in a way that serves the requirements of national development and demands the Saudi labor market.
- Strengthen the University relations with the public and private sectors and the civil society organizations.
- Link IAU internal academic role with the practice outside the University arena.
- Authenticate and disseminate the culture of advisory and institutional work within the community.
- Develop the self- financial resources of the University and the University employees.

Strategic Goal of the Institute

To be one of the basic and strategic bodies providing consulting and research services at the national and regional levels.

Provisional Objective of the Institute

Marketing IAU research, consulting, supervisory and contractual services to the public and private sectors and civil society organizations. These services cover the various medical, engineering, technical knowledge, Educational, social and economic fields.

The Institute's Human resources

The University has specialized human resources consisting of a group of Scientist and researchers in various fields of knowledge in addition to assistants' researchers and technicians as follows:

- More than 1,400 experts holding PhD's.
- More than 1,500 lecturers and demonstrators.
- More than 800 graduate students
- More than 34,000 students
- More than 1,700 processonals
- More than 3,000 employees in the supporting administrative machinery
- More than 20 research and supports centers.

The Institute's support research and technical resources

The Institute of Consulting Studies (ICS) seeks to utilize the research centers, support deanships and centers and the central laboratories within the University in the provision of consulting and research services:

- Medical Research Institute
- Center for Urban studies and consultancy
- Continuing Education Center
- University Counseling Center
- Documentation and Information Center
- Center for Scientific Publications
- Deanship of Academic Development
- Deanship of Community Service and Sustainable Development
- Deanship of Quality and Academic Accreditation
- Deanship of Communications and Information Technology

Services of the Institute

First Contractual Services:

The Institute provides contract-based scientific and applied research for the public and private sectors, as well as civil society organizations. Through the University's human, technical and technological resources, the institute contributes to finding solutions to developmental, social, environmental, economic, industrial and business problems.

Second Contractual Services:

The Institute Of Consulting Studies contributes outside the University. The major of that is to provided scientific experience and professional supervision relating to the evaluation and presentation of curricula, academic programs and institutional and academic accreditation.

Third Consulting Services:

The Institute of Consulting Studies contributes to the provision of consulting services to public and private sectors as well as civil society organizations by allowing the University faculty members to contribute to the provision of consultancy in their fields of specialties as per the full or part time consulting system.

Fourth Consulting Services:

The Institute of Consulting Studies contributes to enhancing the principle of partnership between the University and the Community through availing opportunities for the faculty and teaching staff members to provide academic, consulting and training services to all groups of the society in all disciplines and all scientific and research domains.

Fifth: Language services and Translation consultancy:

The institute provides professional language and translation services for the public, private and civil society organizations in all disciplines and all scientific and research domains.

