The Alumni Unit of College of Medicine in IAU organized a webinar: Oral and Poster Presentation of Original Articles: A-Z Guide on What and How to Prepare and Present.

The program started with Dr. Aljohani speech about how to prepare for presenting in conferences: from how to prepare the presentation till how to practice in the right way. During that, he mentioned many tips for public speaking, active listening, and how to react with attendees. After that, Dr. Alshakhs talked about his journey in research, how he started, and some tips to present well and when to start to be a presenter. He also emphasized on the importance of developing the soft skills in the medical field like public speech.

In the end, the speakers interact with the attendees and answer all their questions.
