Imam Abdulrahman Bin Faisal University (IAU) delivers outreach programmes and projects in the local community which includes student volunteering programs for improving and promoting the health and wellbeing of the people in the community.

IAU ensures the outreach programs cover the community's hygiene, nutrition, family planning, sports exercise, aging well and other health and wellbeing related topics.

Find below some of our collaborations.

1. Prison Visit

Based on social responsibility and community health, a medical team from the Family and Community Medicine Center at #Imam_Abdulrahman_bin_Faisal_University visits Dammam Prison

To provide comprehensive medical examinations to 200 inmates, with the aim of enhancing their mental and physical health. The visit confirms the university's commitment to its role in serving the community and improving health conditions.
