#ProgrammerDay

September 13th
Why?

World Programmer Day

13th is the world Programmers' Day, and this day is celebrated on the September 13th in a year. This date was selected because the number 13 and the lowest 2 be represented using eight bits and is the highest power of 2. This day is celebrated to honor programmers and to highlight their power of 365 role and contribution to information technology and software development.

Our Goal in 2030

A Programmer for every 100 Saudi
